

City Surveillance

When protecting a city's citizens and property, taking the right actions comes from having the right data. Right now. Providing that data is our mission. i-PRO solutions provide sure-fire surveillance to the most remote edges of your network. From our ultra-durable cameras to our edge AI data driven forensic search and alert analytics, we enable the instant detection and analysis you need to mobilize responders, apprehend criminals, and cover your community in a blanket of security.

We know your true purpose goes much deeper than stopping crime. It's about enriching the lives of your citizens and building better communities. You're not alone. Every element of our solution is designed to pursue these greater goals as well.

Every day we provide the clarity cities need to protect the lives, property and peace of mind of those they serve. While our products are sold through integrators, our door is always open to end users to help them create and maintain the most secure systems possible.
